BIG CROWD AT LICENSE COURT

York Springs Application First to be Argued. Objection Entered to Petition at Abbottstown. Testimony.

Every seat was taken and many persons were standing in the aisles at the first session of the annual license court this morning, interest having been aroused in every section of the county over the filing of remonstrances against the granting of licenses in Gettysburg, York Springs, and Littlestown.

Judge McPherson and his associates received all the petitions for license against which no remonstrances had been filed and at the afternoon session announced that all such licenses were granted with the exception of the one at the Gettysburg Springs Hotel.

This license was granted last year and issued to John Robertson but never lifted. Application was made this year by A. H. B. Ring and it was stated that the reason for desiring license was the proposed development of the property as a big resort hotel. The application was continued pending developments, the Court stating that he saw no reason for immediate action.

Objection was made to the petition of Charles Ahland, of Abbottstown, for the reason that the names of the bondsmen are not the same as those mentioned in the petition. The license was granted this afternoon subject to a rule to show cause why it should not be revoked.

In granting the licenses Judge McPherson stated that all those given were under the provisions of the Brooks License Law and that all the men receiving such license were subject to having them revoked if infractions of that law were discovered. He urged all to acquaint themselves thoroughly with the provisions of the law and warned against all violations. He laid particular stress on the provision covering the sale of liquor to men of known temperate habits.

The first of the applications, against which remonstrances had been filed, to be taken up was that of Irvin E. Weaver for the Central Hotel, York Springs, owned by C. T. Lerew. This hotel lost its license last year through a technicality.

J. Donald Swope Esq, representing the petitioner, called C. T. Lerew as the first witness and ex-Associate Judge G. H. Trostel as the second. Both expressed doubt about the necessity of two licensed places in York Springs but said there was necessity for one. John D. Keith Esq, and Charles E. Stahl Esq, representing the remonstrants, put both witnesses through a rather vigorous cross examination. This occupied the morning session.

Included in the large audience in the court room were many persons from the upper end of the county, prominent in temperance activities. Women from town were also present and proved to be interested spectators, while the large number of witnesses subpoenaed to support the petitioners and remonstrants in the case of the Hotel Washington and Hartzell Cafe here, helped to increase the crowd. In addition there was the usual number of persons who never miss a session of court.

TO PUBLISH NAMES

Seek Extra Liquor Licenses in Cumberland County.

Wet and dry forces in Cumberland county are lining up for a struggle January 31 at License Court. Twenty-nine persons have applied for license. This is two more than last year. Efforts being made to re-open the Big Spring Hotel, in Newville, and to secure a license for the Doubling Gap Springs Hotel, a noted summer resort, which has been without license for some years.

No-license advocates are said to be planning to have remonstrances entered against every hotel and wholesale stand and this move is being fostered by revivals held in various sections. W. C. T. U. organizations will publish the names of signers to applications.

The family moved to Gettysburg 20 years ago where the father established the Gettysburg Steam Laundry which later passed into the hands of his son, who conducted it for eight years. ARREST COUNTY ELOPERS IN CITY

Youth and Maiden Fooled Baltimore Police with Fake Story but are Finally Found out. Intended to Marry.

Eugene Stump, 17 years old, and Claudine Melhorn, 16 year old daughter of Mrs. Annie Melhorn, McSherrystown, after eloping to Baltimore on last Tuesday to get married were placed under arrest in that city Thursday. They at first told the police a story that they had lost their money; that Stump was destitute and that the girl was his step sister and dependent on him for support.

The pair related a touching tale of privation and suffering when they appeared at the Northern police station, Baltimore, on Tuesday, on the strength of which the police treated them to a banquet and began telegraphing to York, where Stump said he had an older brother, to have him take them under his care. As far as can be learned the brother has not been located.

Mrs. Melhorn, who is housekeeping for Frank Sponseller on Main street, McSherrystown, when shown the account of the two children seeking work in Baltimore, and, being unsuccessful appealing to the police, expressed her belief that they had gone there to get married.

Through Chief of Police Smeach, of Hanover, she got in touch with the York police in an effort to have the children brought home, it having been erroneously stated in a dispatch from Baltimore that they had been sent to the alleged brother in York. Young Stump made his residence with Bert Hamm, on the opposite side of the street from the Sponsellers.

The couple, when questioned on Thursday, by Captain Hurley, of the Baltimore police, admitted that their story of destitution, search for work, and hunger, told the night before, was not true and that they had gone to Baltimore in the hope of being married. The police held the pair while the federated charities endeavored to gain the consent of the parents to the marriage, it is stated in a Baltimore dispatch. Later they were charged with being minors without proper care and are now held on that charge.

The girl, on account of her age, is in charge of the juvenile court until the federated charities get in touch with her people. The boy will be given a hearing at the Northern police station, Baltimore.

HOME ENTERED

While Owners are in Gettysburg House is Ransacked.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Ziegler received word on Thursday that their home in Bloomington, Illinois, had been entered by thieves some time Tuesday night and ransacked, things being thrown about in great confusion. The caretaker, who made the discovery, was unable to tell whether or not anything had been stolen. Mrs. Ziegler and her father, W. S. Schroder, left for Bloomington today.

Mr. and Mrs. Ziegler had brought with them, when they came to Gettysburg in December, all of their silverware, but much fine cut glass, linens, and other things of value were left in the house. FOR MORE EARLY SALES THIS YEAR

Farmers Generally Seem to Prefer February and the Fore Part of March. Some Holding Back for Later Dates.

Early spring sales promise to attract the farmers of Adams County more than ever before, it is stated by auctioneers, clerks, and others who follow the annual round of sales from year to year. February has an unusually long list while the early part of March will have from six to eight sales on some days.

Various reasons are assigned. The one most generally advanced is that farmers do not wish to have the feeding of stock for a longer period in the winter than is absolutely necessary, and they are glad for a chance to sell at an early date to relieve themselves of this extra expense. Others believe that by having sale early they have a larger crowd of buyers who had not had a chance to fill their wants at other sales.

Against these arguments the farmers holding late sales declare that the fact that the buyer will not have a long winter period in which to feed the stock he purchases induces prices that are higher and more than balance the outlay the selling farmer had to make in caring for the stock. Again these people having late sales declare that many farmers always go the rounds before finally making up their minds to buy, and that nothing is lost by selecting a date late in March.

But early or late, there are scattered throughout February and March several hundred sales. As in past years the progressive farmer, no matter in what section of the county he may live, is recognizing the value of advertising his sale judiciously and to best advantage. The Gettysburg Times and its weekly edition, Adams County News, are again the most sought papers and will keep all informed of the sale news and advertising throughout the coming weeks.

CARRIER EXAMINATION

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Adams County to be held at Gettysburg and Hanover on February 26, to fill the position of rural carrier at Virginia Mills and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in Adams County. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements. Application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

AMERICANS GET BANDIT LEADER

Gen. Rodriguez Said to Be a Prisoner in Mexico.

WILL HUNT DOWN SLAYERS

Captors of Bandits Are in Straits and Calling for Aid—Forty Men Taken With Him Shot.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 14.—General Jose Rodriguez, whose name has been mentioned as one of the Villa leaders concerned in the assassinations of American citizens in northern Chihuahua during the last week, has been captured by Americans at Madera, Mexico, after a fight, according to a report.

Rodriguez is credited with having issued a proclamation recently saying he would kill every American who fell into his hands. A message from Madera says that before the capture, a number of Rodriguez's men were killed. It also says that the Americans are hard pressed, and that they are in need of aid.

The capture was made by Maximiano Marquez, it was said. He is an employee of the Hearst interests at Babicora, and is now at Madera, keeping order, with about 125 Americans and a few soldiers. The message said Rodriguez was met in a pitched battle, defeated, and his men scattered, captured and killed.

The Americans heard Rodriguez and his men were burning bridges below Chihuahua. They called upon officials in Chihuahua, asking that troops be rushed to them. Without waiting for aid, Marquez attacked.

Forty men, among whom are some who are believed to have taken part in the murder of Americans, are reported captured with Rodriguez. It is said they were shot as bandits.

Rodriguez was charged in first reports with responsibility for the killing of sixteen Americans and three other persons at San Ysabel, Monday. Reports of Mexicans on the trail, however, say General Reyna, Colonel Pablo Lopez and General Betran led the bandits.

The message from Madera came close upon the heels of a report that ten American men and two English women had been killed at Madera, which is sixty miles west of San Ysabel, Chihuahua, where sixteen Americans and three other persons were killed by Villa bandits, Monday. One of the women is said to be the wife of Captain Lettbridge, a retired British army officer, who, with a companion, a Mrs. Berry, had been staying at Babicora ranch, a William Randolph Hearst property.

The report seemingly is discredited, however, as the telegraph operator at Madera has wired that no Americans were killed at that place.

A rumor is being circulated to the effect that three Americans were murdered in the Cananea district of Sonora, near the Phelps-Dodge property. But this is also without confirmation. It has been definitely established that Bart Kramer, son of an American ranchman, was killed sixty miles west of San Ysabel.

Feeling is running high on the border. A plan to organize a regiment of American mining men to enter Mexico and run down the bandits, was formulated. It was decided to present the plan to officials of the de facto government of Mexico for its sanction. A large number of Americans, it was stated, are ready to join the force, and foreign mining corporations have offered to supply the necessary arms and ammunition.

Rome, Jan. 14.—Advices from Switzerland report the hurried recall of the German crown prince and of Prince von Buelow, former imperial chancellor, to Berlin, because of the critical condition of the kaiser. The advices it has been impossible to confirm.

GEN. HUERTA IS DEAD

Mexican Dictator Succumbs at El Paso, Texas.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 14.—General Victoriano Huerta, former dictator and provisional president of Mexico, died last evening.

His death had been momentarily expected since Wednesday.

His will was signed following the administration of the Catholic rites. He asked his lawyer to say that he had forgiven his enemies.

General Robles, his private secretary, issued the following: "In the actual moment of gravity in General Huerta's condition, I only wish to state regarding the unjust and cruel treatment given to him by the United States government that the treatment is responsible for his present condition. When he was president of Mexico he gave all guarantees to Americans, regardless of the difficulties he had met with in his administration. In this country he was thrown in jail like a common criminal and his health completely broken down, causing his death."

BIG RUSSIAN GAIN IN BUKOWINA DRIVE

Sadagura, Near Czernowitz, Reported Captured.

London, Jan. 14.—Report from the eastern front of the capture of Sadagura is regarded in military circles as probably true, although official announcement on the subject has not been received.

The town, which lies a few miles northeast of Czernowitz, and is a converging point for five good roads, is of considerable strategic importance, and previous attempts to capture it have been stoutly resisted. Experts say Sadagura is really of more importance than Czernowitz, on account of its stronger natural position and facilities for communication purposes.

ATTACK GERMANS IN WEST

Berlin Says Allies' Offensive in France Was Repulsed.

London, Jan. 14.—A strong British attack near Arras, northern France, and two French onslaughts in the Champagne, were repulsed by the Germans, the Berlin war office announced.

The German offensive in Champagne, which reached its culmination Sunday, is insistently reported from French headquarters as having been undertaken on an important scale and with a definite military purpose. The failure is declared to have been complete, and the strong German forces which were employed suffered terrible losses.

The battle is described as the bloodiest encounter on the Western front since the allied offensive of September. Unofficial despatches place the German losses at 25,000 men.

CRISIS OVER MEXICAN AFFAIR

Texan Says Our Patience is Exhausted.

LANSING HINTS AT FORCE

Secretary of State Says if Proper Steps Are Not Taken to Protect Americans an Issue With U. S. Will Arise.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The crisis over Mexican relations caused by the latest butchery of American citizens below the border drew a scathing denunciation of conditions in Mexico from a Democratic member of congress from Texas, Slayden, who told the house the patience of Texans had been exhausted, and from the secretary of state another warning to Americans in Mexico to leave any districts where "there is revolutionary trouble."

Secretary Lansing said that so far the steps taken by the Carranza government on the American representations appeared to be satisfactory. He added the United States would expect evidence of punishment of the bandits who killed the Americans near Chihuahua and that the evidence would depend upon the circumstances.

Secretary Lansing said that if proper and final steps were not taken an issue might arise between the United States and the Carranza government.

His last assertion was regarded as significant of the determination of the United States to enforce protection for its citizens in Mexico.

Lansing added that the question of responsibility for the killing still was undetermined and that the state department recognized a certain analogy between the situation in Mexico and the situation in the west during the early history of the United States.

Carranza authorities, however, he said should have warned the Americans away from a region they knew to be dangerous.

When congress met the Mexican situation came up again. Senator Lewis Democrat, introduced a resolution to authorize the president to employ the army and navy in Mexico in the same manner as they are now utilized to preserve peace and order in Nicaragua and Haiti. The senator asked that the resolution lie on the table for the present.

In the house, Slayden declared the time had come for a Pan-American union to bring peace to Mexico, and insisted that only the execution of the slayers of the sixteen Americans recently killed near Santa Ysabel would satisfy the people of the border states.

Eliseo Arrando, General Carranza's ambassador, called at the state department and personally informed Secretary Lansing that troops had been despatched in pursuit of the bandits who murdered the Americans with orders to capture or kill every member of the band. He said, if necessary, every soldier of the de facto government in the northern states would be pressed into service for this purpose. Later Arrando said the dead Americans had been warned to keep out of the guerrilla warfare territory, although General Obregon had given them permission at their request to pass through his lines.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA STRIKES

Assert Reports Were Marked According to Musical Ability.

Woodbury, N. J., Jan. 14.—For two mornings the high school has been without orchestral music, because of a strike among the boy and girl musicians.

This was brought about, according to some of the players, because their reports were not marked as they believed they deserved.

Because of this low average, some of the pupils have been suspended for a few days, which has raised something of a disturbance among the parents. It is said that because of the musical ability of some of the pupils they have been given "points," providing they would play in the orchestra.

NEW LINER HURONIAN STRUCK BY TORPEDO

Was Attacked December 29 Near Irish Coast.

New York, Jan. 14.—The New Leyland line steamship Huronian, from Galveston, was torpedoed December 29, off the Irish coast, according to reports in shipping circles.

The International Mercantile Marine said a cablegram had been received that the Huronian had met with injury and had been towed into port, but the message did not say what had caused the damage.

The Huronian carried a cargo consisting chiefly of cotton, corn and wheat valued at over $1,000,000, according to her published manifests.

The Huronian sailed from Galveston bound for Liverpool on December 12. She was reported to have encountered a submarine not far from the spot where the Lusitania and Arabic were sunk.

The Huronian was built only last year in Glasgow, for freight service. She was 475 feet long and 53 feet beam, with a tonnage of 5,624. She was not assigned to trans-Atlantic service.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Ellen C. Heiges who died this day one year ago January 14, 1915, aged 65 years, and Hiram F. Heiges, who died August 17th, 1913, aged 67 years.

Call not back the dear departed,

Anchored safe where storms are o'er

On the border land we left them,

Soon to meet and part no more.

When we leave this world of changes,

When we leave this world of care,

We shall find our missing loved ones

In our Father's mansion fair.

Earth has lost its look of gladness,

Heaven seems to us more bright,

Since the spirits of our dear ones

Took their happy, homeward flight.

And we long to cross that river,

Long to rest upon that shore,

There to see, and know, and love them

With the Savior, evermore.

By Son and Family.

TEUTON ALLIES ATTACK SALONIKA

Bombardment of Positions Reported From Rome.

CORFU OCCUPIED BY ALLIES

The Austrians Are Pushing Drive Into Montenegro and Are Shelling Ant. Wari.

London, Jan. 14.—Athens advices to Rome say that a general attack on the allies' Salonika lines, begun on Tuesday, is being developed on a large scale.

The correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia reports that a bombardment of the British lines in the Doiran zone proceeded all day Monday.

The attack, a despatch to the Daily News says, came from the Germans on the west, with Monastir as their headquarters, and from the Austrian and Bulgarian lines on the center along the Gheorgi-Dorlan line, while the Turks on the east concentrated at Tanti Gumulgina.

The reported offensive, however, lacks confirmation from other sources. The impression has prevailed that the Anglo-French positions are so far removed from the boundary that they could not be reached with German and Bulgarian guns, unless the Teutonic allies actually advanced into Greece.

French troops have occupied the Greek island of Corfu and the tricolor is floating over the Kaiser's villa Achilleon.

The Greek government has protested against the occupation. It is believed in Athens that the arrest of the Austrian and German consuls at Corfu is certain to follow.

The occupation by the French troops is stated to be provisional and is preparatory to the transference to Corfu of a portion of the Serbian army for the purpose of rest and refitting.

The ministers of the allied powers at Athens have handed a note to the Greek government declaring that they regard it as the clear duty of humanity to transport as soon as possible part of the Serbian army to a point near the Albanian coast.

The entire note asserts this step is taken "in order to save these heroic soldiers from famine and destruction," and that the island of Corfu has been chosen as offering the necessary facilities from the point of view of sanitation and food supply.

The powers add they do not suppose Greece will object to the proposed transfer of the Serbians, who are the allies of Greece and who will only remain a short time on the island. The note concludes:

"There is no intention at occupying, as all guarantees have been given under this head to the Greek government, both concerning Corfu and other parts of Greek territory."

Vienna reports that the Austrian offensive against the Montenegrins is successfully progressing. One column has captured the heights west and northwest of Basjak and another column has occupied Basjak, southwest of Cetinje. Measures have been taken by the government officials still remaining to evacuate Cetinje.

Austrian forces advancing from Cattaro and Budna have reached Mitcheitz, five miles from Antivari, which is being bombarded by the Austrian long-range guns, according to a despatch to L'Ouvre under Tuesday's date. The entire Austrian fleet, including three dreadnoughts, is now concentrating in the gulf of Cattaro. Montenegro is to be evacuated by Serbian troops, it was officially announced at the Serbian legation at Rome, the troops being transferred to Corfu.

Four in Family Hurt—Black Hand Hand Letter Ignored.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 14.—The home of Joseph Smith, constable in Old Forge borough, was destroyed by an explosion of dynamite.

The dynamite was placed under the porch front which was blown from the building. Smith's wife and his seven-year-old son, as well as his aged parents, were buried from their beds, and all were injured. Smith was not at home.

Three weeks ago, Smith received black hand letters demanding that he pay members of the society $250. He paid no attention to the threats.

Park Pavilion Burned.
Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 14.—The Congregational park pavilion, one of the largest in this section of the state, was burned, entailing a loss of $10,000. It was owned by Ferdinand Grebe. A king and boxing paraphernalia, owned by H. H. Hensel, and valued at $200, and scenery used by the Jefferson de Angell company during the summer, valued at $500, were also burned. It is believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Met Death He Feared.
Towanda, Pa., Jan. 14.—Having a horror of death on the rail road, Dennis Hayes, sixty-two years old, of Towanda, died in the Packer hospital from injuries received on the Lehigh Valley. He was struck by a fast mail train while at work in the Towanda tunnel. He could not explain how the accident happened.

Shoot.
Some men are so skeptical that they refuse to believe the report of a gun.—Yonkers Statesman.

MARGARET WILSON ILL
President's Daughter Operated Upon for Adenoids in Philadelphia.
Philadelphia, Jan. 14. Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the president of the United States, was operated upon in Jefferson hospital by Dr. D. Braden Kyle.
The operation was for the removal of adenoids and the tonsils. She is resting easily.
Miss Wilson has been in the hospital since last Tuesday, but the greatest secrecy has been maintained by the officials there.
The White House at Washington was in constant communication with the hospital by long distance telephone. Miss Wilson's cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bowers, has been at the patient's bedside continuously since her admission to the hospital and was present at the operation.

WOMEN PACIFISTS RAP PREPAREDNESS

Jane Addams Says Disarmament May Follow War.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Miss Jane Addams, speaking for the Women's Peace Party, declared to the house military committee that the campaign for national defence in America was the result of panic over what is happening in Europe.

She urged in the name of thousands of American women, she said, that this country be not stampeded into military measures which would render it ineffective when international disarmament became a possibility at the end of the war. There was no enemy against whom to prepare, she said, and no need of any urgency.

She urged that a commission be appointed to determine whether present expenditures on the army and navy were securing efficiency, and also to find out who were urging greater expenditures and why.

"Doubtless some of them are as clean handed as can be," she said, "Doubtless some are involved with self-interest."

Committeemen asked Miss Addams if she had not supported former President Roosevelt in his last campaign, and called attention to Colonel Roosevelt's recent utterances on the need of preparedness.

"He was not talking like this then," Miss Addams replied. "There was nothing of the sort in our platform. It is my sober judgment that he does not speak for any large body of people."

VERDI MAY CARRY GUNS

Government to Let Ship Sail With Cannon Mounted on Stern.
Washington, Jan. 14.—The Italian liner Giuseppe Verdi will be permitted to clear from New York with her two guns still mounted.

The state department has given its assent on assurances that the pieces are to be used only for defence, and has so notified the treasury department, which will instruct Collector of the Port Malone of New York.

The state department has not contended that it had any right to deny admission to American ports to a merchant ship armed ostensibly for defence, but announced at the outset of the war that it preferred that no armed ships of that class should come in American waters. British ships dismounted guns.

Arrangements Are Being Made for the Leading Local Druggists to Give Away to the First Who Present Coupons. 25c Jars of the Remarkable Southern Treatment—Vap-O-Rub.

Entirely External—You Just Rub It On Over Throat and Chest. Colds Go Over Night and Croup In Fifteen Minutes.

To mothers with small children, particularly to mothers with croupy children, we bring a message of good cheer. It is no longer necessary to dose the delicate stomachs of the little chaps with Ipecac or strong internal medicines to relieve these troubles. A quicker and better method is the "outside" application—Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve. This salve is so made that, when applied for croup or cold troubles over the throat and chest, the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors carry the medication, all night long, with each breath, through the air passages to the lungs, loosening the phlegm and clearing the head. Vap-O-Rub is also absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness.

In severe cases first apply hot wet towels over the throat, chest, and back, between the shoulder blades, to open the pores of the skin; then rub

Counting The Cash

January is count-up time with the storekeepers. They take stock of things, balance the books, and try to see whether the figures are on the right side of the ledger. They like to count up results in cash rather than in goods on the shelf. Hence the tendency toward sales clearances and lower prices at this season of the year. Lessened sales figures mean the merchant is paying premium for cash. And the same desire reflected in the advertising of The Times makes it profitable to you to read it.

WHITE GOODS SALE NOW ON

The great disparity of higher prices on raw cotton between now and some months ago created very strong price advances on all kinds of Cotton Fabrics since June 1915.

We had placed heavy orders for Heavy Cottons, such as MUSLINS and BED MUSLINS, SHEETS, CASES &c., LONG CLOTHS and CAMBRICS to reach near January 1st, 1916. Also MANUFACTURED MUSLIN UNDERWEAR, which they could be had at or near old prices.

The chance is no likelihood in the judgment of those close to the primary market of any lower prices on Raw Materials this year. Add to the present price of Raw Cotton the higher wages paid everywhere in Textile Mills makes us able to give assurances that our present prices, on every character of Cotton Goods now affected, cannot be duplicated again this season.

The Pity of It

By M. QUAD
Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Just an even hundred men answered "Here!" as the sergeant called the roll in the morning we awoke beside the Potomac. There was an even hundred as we marched away—as we first sighted the enemy, as we went into battle for the first time. After the roar of guns had died away and the dead had been buried, only eighty-nine men answered "Here!" to the sergeant's roll call in the morning.

A few weeks went by, and we stood shoulder to shoulder in battle line again, and when the sergeant called the roll, now only seventy-eight men answered "Here!"

Then came Cold Harbor and the falling back to Malvern Hill. Cannon boomed and musketry cracked all day long and far into the night. Wounded men cursed and groaned as they flung forward with but a single cry and died with their faces hidden in the weeds and grass. After Malvern Hill the sergeant called the roll again—not the same sergeant as before, for he was lying dead in the thickets at Fair Oaks—and this time only fifty-two men answered "Here!"

And so could you wonder that when recruits came down to us we looked upon them as intruders, even though they were good men and true, and had come to help us win victories? Their names were called with ours, and we heard them answer "Here!" But they were only with us; they could not be of us. They had come too late.

And at last came Appomattox and the surrender and then peace and the return to Washington. We were all most a full company again as we turned out on the meadows of Arlington for the last roll call. Upward of seventy living men could have answered "Here!" to their names.

"Fall in, company G. Attention to roll call!"

It was not the sergeant who had called the roll after Frederickburg, after Chancellorsville, after Gettysburg. It was a new man—one who had been promoted before his cheeks had scarcely been burned by the southern sun. But he had heard of the ties which bound the old veterans together—he realized what this last roll call meant to the survivors. And from the dusty archives of the past he took the roll of the dead and called:

"Anson, Armstrong, Armitage!" No one replied.

"Berry, Blountingdale, Benson, Barston, Benham!" No one replied.

"Cary, Carter, Carnahan, Cummings, Comstock!" No one replied.

And so he called, and so the silence of the death roll grew deeper.

"Young, Yeomans, Yager!" No one replied.

"York!"

"Here!"

And so he of all was the sole survivor, the last living man of company G, the only one who had a right to stand there in that line and answer to the last roll call. The others—ninety and nine—were crumpled at home or sleeping their last sleep on the hillside, in the valleys, in the forests and the thickets of Virginia.

The line cheered him as he stood apart, the last survivor of a glorious band which had fought in a dozen battles, but he turned his head away and wept.

Perhaps no act of war engendered more bitterness than the burning of the barns and houses in the Shenandoah valley under Sheridan's official order.

No warning was given unless the great clouds of smoke rising up here and there to signify destruction were taken as warnings of what was to come. A squad of men galloped up, the women and children were told the substance of the order, and the match was applied. An hour later they sat on the grass homeless and homeless, some of them naked and dumb in terror. There were tears and prayers and pleadings, but the order had gone forth.

By and by, as we rode up to a quaint old farmhouse, half hidden among the fruit trees, a ride cracked and a troop, shot through the head, fell off his horse. The black pillars of smoke dotting the valley had told the people what was coming. Here was one determined to protect his property—one man, a farmer, after company after company riding up and down and across. Ten minutes later the barn and the stacks were on fire and men under cover were leaping up a hot fire on the hill pit. Just as another squad, attracted by the firing, came up a second man was hit and grievously wounded.

There was no more firing from the pit. Some of the scores of bullets fired into it must have found a target. There was a rush from all sides and the pit was captured. Fifty men had captured one. And that one? It was a lad not a day over fourteen, and one of our carbine bullets had taken his life. And when we laid him on the grass and saw that he had come home wounded from some battle up the valley—when the mother came out to us from the house and fell on her knees and wept and sobbed—when an old white haired grandfather stood in the door, helpless to come out and look into our faces, but waiting out as if the sight of the dead boy was breaking his heart, what could we say? Nothing! What could we do? Only ride away and between the smiles of war.

He Couldn't Understand.

Bob had had a strenuous day at school. In discussing it he said, "Mother, why don't women have any use for men when they're little? Don't they know they'll grow up some day."

BRONCHITIS SUFFERER

Cured by a Simple Remedy.

Columbus, Ga. "I am telling everybody what Vinol has done for my husband. He had a bronchial cough, his system was run-down and I felt sure he would die. His father insisted on his trying Vinol, and I am so thankful he did, because it cured his cough and built him up. My doctor highly recommends it and said he could not take anything better." Mrs. Thomas Monk.

Vinol, you know, contains the real old liver curative extract, together with peptonate of iron, and beef-pep-one, it enriches and revitalizes the blood and conveys to the system the vital elements necessary to strengthen the body and throw off the disease. That is the reason it was so successful in Mr. Monk's case.

Anyone in Gettysburg who has bronchitis, a chronic cough, or needs building up, may try a bottle of Vinol, with the understanding that his money will be returned if he is not satisfied. C. Wm. Beales, Prop., The People's Drug Store.
